

LIBERTY'S SON.

GARIBALDI, THE GREAT LIBERATOR.

The Italian and Others Resident in the District
Do Honor to His Memory—Speeches by
Hon. John A. Kasson and Dr.
Verdi—A Statue.

Marlin's Hall was filled by a large and intelligent audience, assembled to do honor to the memory of the great patriot and soldier, General Giuseppe Garibaldi. The hall was festively and appropriately decorated with Italian and American flags. On the right of the stage was displayed the portrait of Garibaldi by Senator Cortis, and on the left a portrait of Washington. The portrait of Garibaldi was draped in mourning, and above it draped the folds of the flag of Italy shrouded in sombre crepe.

The President directed me to acknowledge your kind invitation to be present at this evening at the meeting of the society, and to say that he regrets that he cannot be present, but that he sends his warmest sympathies to the society, and that he trusts that the meeting will be a successful one.

Dr. Verdi said: "I regret that I cannot be present, but I send you my warmest sympathies. I am sure you will do me the honor to send me a copy of the proceedings of the meeting, and I will be glad to contribute to the movement to honor his name by an appropriate monument."

Colonel R. G. Ingersoll said: "If possible I would be with you this evening. My admiration for Garibaldi is as true as the stars, and I feel that I am not alone in feeling that the soldier was a patriot. He was the champion of the oppressed, and he was the champion of the oppressed."

Dr. Verdi, the President of the Society, came forward, and speaking in Italian, said: "This is a solemn moment. Garibaldi is dead. He has left behind him a noble and pure life. He has left behind him a noble and pure life. He has left behind him a noble and pure life."

Wherever man fought for his independence there Garibaldi was found. You find him, therefore, in the history of the world. He was the champion of the oppressed, and he was the champion of the oppressed. He was the champion of the oppressed, and he was the champion of the oppressed.

"THIS IS WHAT GARIBALDI HAS DONE." He united the south and north. He united the dream, the ambition of Italy, with Rome as its capital. He united the dream, the ambition of Italy, with Rome as its capital. He united the dream, the ambition of Italy, with Rome as its capital.

Dr. Verdi said: "I regret that I cannot be present, but I send you my warmest sympathies. I am sure you will do me the honor to send me a copy of the proceedings of the meeting, and I will be glad to contribute to the movement to honor his name by an appropriate monument."

Dr. Verdi said: "I regret that I cannot be present, but I send you my warmest sympathies. I am sure you will do me the honor to send me a copy of the proceedings of the meeting, and I will be glad to contribute to the movement to honor his name by an appropriate monument."

SECRETARY CHANDLER.

Speeches at Good Water for a Better Navy.

At a Dinner Party.
Boston, June 14.—The New Hampshire Club held its annual dinner at the Revere House this afternoon. There were 250 gentlemen present, many of whom are residents of New Hampshire, and others who, although citizens of Boston, claim New Hampshire as the place of their nativity.

At the dinner party, Secretary Chandler, of the Navy, was the guest of honor. He was introduced by Hon. John A. Kasson, and he made a speech in which he discussed the state of the navy, and the need for a better navy.

Secretary Chandler said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you."

Secretary Chandler said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you."

Secretary Chandler said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you."

Secretary Chandler said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you."

Secretary Chandler said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you."

Secretary Chandler said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you."

Secretary Chandler said: "I am glad to be here, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you, and I am glad to see you."

WHEELING INTO LINE.

TO DEFEAT TAR-HEEL BOORONS.

The North Carolina Republicans Nominate the Same Ticket Placed Before the People by the Liberals—Resolutions—Nominations for Congress.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 14.—The Republican State Convention met here at 12 o'clock to-day, the full quota of members being present. It was called to order by Dr. Mott, chairman of the executive committee, and Daniel L. Russell was made temporary president. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year. The convention, after the reading of the resolutions, proceeded to the nomination of a ticket for the coming year.

OLD VETERANS MEET.

The Army of the Potomac at Detachment.

DETROIT, Mich., June 14.—The annual meeting of the Society of the Army of the Potomac convened in the city this afternoon. General Grant presided, and the most prominent citizens of the city were present.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the society was called to order by General Charles Devens, Jr., general Andrew A. Humphrey, U. S. A., was chosen president for the ensuing year. The present recording secretary, General C. S. Smith, was re-elected. General G. S. Smith, of Kingston, N. Y., was elected corresponding secretary.

STRONG DENIALS.

OF THE TESTIMONY OF MR. BLAINE.

Robert E. Randall is Surprised at His Statements—Mr. Trevelock's Testimony—He Throws More Light on the Credit Industrial Company.

A report of the testimony of Mr. Blaine before the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House on Tuesday was handed to Robert E. Randall, at his New York hotel, on Tuesday night. Mr. Randall, it will be remembered, is the agent of the Credit Industrial Company, of Paris, and is a brother to ex-Speaker Randall. Mr. Randall read it rapidly through with a curious expression of countenance, and turning to the reporter asked: "Is this an authentic report?"

"Well," said Mr. Randall, after a moment's reflection, "I observe, Mr. Randall, that Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that you were not a man to whom he would have talked about important developments in this matter. Have you anything to say in reply?"

"I have nothing to say in reply to that," said Mr. Randall. "I observe, Mr. Randall, that Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that you were not a man to whom he would have talked about important developments in this matter. Have you anything to say in reply?"

"I have nothing to say in reply to that," said Mr. Randall. "I observe, Mr. Randall, that Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that you were not a man to whom he would have talked about important developments in this matter. Have you anything to say in reply?"

"I have nothing to say in reply to that," said Mr. Randall. "I observe, Mr. Randall, that Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that you were not a man to whom he would have talked about important developments in this matter. Have you anything to say in reply?"

"I have nothing to say in reply to that," said Mr. Randall. "I observe, Mr. Randall, that Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that you were not a man to whom he would have talked about important developments in this matter. Have you anything to say in reply?"

"I have nothing to say in reply to that," said Mr. Randall. "I observe, Mr. Randall, that Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that you were not a man to whom he would have talked about important developments in this matter. Have you anything to say in reply?"

"I have nothing to say in reply to that," said Mr. Randall. "I observe, Mr. Randall, that Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that you were not a man to whom he would have talked about important developments in this matter. Have you anything to say in reply?"

A DRAMATIC SCENE.

Between Two Members of the House of Representatives.

During the discussion on the executive, legislative, and judicial bill in the House yesterday, Mr. White said that he was a candidate for the other end of the Capitol, and the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

Mr. White—I will repeat the statement. I said that Mr. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, had stated on call before the Committee on Ways and Means that the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means had entered into some kind of bargain to help the whisky men if they would help the tariff men. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, rose, and said that he had heard and read, as he had not heard them.

THREE GRADUATES.

COLUMBIAN UNIVERSITY HONORS.

Commencement Exercises at Lincoln Hall Last Night—The Certificates and Diplomas Awarded and Degrees Conferred—The Public Schools.

The sixteenth annual commencement of Columbia College took place last night at Lincoln Hall in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience, consisting of the friends and patrons of the well-known institution of learning. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

THREE GRADUATES.

COLUMBIAN UNIVERSITY HONORS.

Commencement Exercises at Lincoln Hall Last Night—The Certificates and Diplomas Awarded and Degrees Conferred—The Public Schools.

The sixteenth annual commencement of Columbia College took place last night at Lincoln Hall in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience, consisting of the friends and patrons of the well-known institution of learning. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.

The exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner. The hall was completely filled, and the exercises were held in a most successful manner.